

National Chiropractic Journal 1948 (Sept); 18(9): 30; journal caption reads: "Portion of the main entrance hall - Some eighty feet long, this corridor, which was specifically designed by Walter J. Kelly, prominent architect, permits rapid transit between the various departments and class rooms." Interior of Western States College campus in Portland, Oregon.