Chronology of Virginia Boydjieff, D.C.

1939 (Mar): National Chiropractic Journal[8(3)] includes:
 -ad from Dr. S.P. Boydjieff at 2603 Filbert Avenue, Reading PA for book: "Bloodless Surgery of Tomorrow" (p. 60)

1953 (Jan): National College Journal of Chiropractic [25(1)]
 includes:
 -cover photo of Virginia Boydjieff, D.C. with panelists on "What's My Line" TV program:

-"Dr. Virginia Boydjieff, 'Chiropractic, is her line'" (p. 15):

Dr. Virginia Boydjieff graduated from the National College of Chiropractic in 1943. Upon graduation she began practicing her profession in Reading, Pa.

She was named "the most beautiful doctor in the U.S.," last summer, during the annual convention of the National Chiropractic Association.

To Dr. Boydjieff we say, "Congratulations, we are proud of you and gratified by your competent portrayal of your profession."

1953 (Sept): Journal of the California Chiropractic Association [10(2)] includes:

(31) Dr. Virginia Boydjieff, most beautiful woman doctor, appears on TV show with Dr. Arnold Pike, as part of the TV and radio barrage arranged by publicity committee.

1953 (Dec): Journal of the California Chiropractic Association [10(5)] includes:

-"News highlights: Dr. Virginia Boydjieff on Fred Allen TV Show" (p. 3); includes photo of Fred Allen & Dr. Boydjieff:

Chiropractic again hit the airwaves last month when over eleven million Americans viewed the Fred Allen show "JUDGE FOR YOURSELF." The beautiful and gracious Dr. Virginia Boydjieff of Reading, Pennsylvania, a guest on that show, was given the opportunity of explaining chiropractic and she certainly made the most of the occasion.

About one year ago Dr. Boydjieff appeared on the John Daly show, "WHAT'S MY LINE," telecast over the CBS network.

During the NCA-CCA Convention last July Dr. Boydjieff made two appearances on TV in Los Angeles, and was interviewed on a CBS radio program covering fifteen states, as arranged by Dr. Arnold Pike, Gene Curtis and the publicity committee, headed by Dr. Floyd Cregger.

1954 (Apr): CaCA Journal[10(4)] includes:

-"News highlights: Dr. Boydjieff now Californian"; includes photo of Dr. Boydjieff (p. 6)

Dr. Virginia Boydjieff, formerly of Reading, Pa., is now practicing in association with Dr. Raymond H. Houser at Mt. Ecclesia, Oceanside. Dr. Boydjieff obtained her California license in 1948 and has re-visited since then, particularly at the CCA-NCA convention when she appeared on a number of radio and television programs as “the best looking doctor in the United States.”

Drs. Houser and Boydjjeff are now conducting an out-patient practice at the Mt. Ecclesia Sanitarium that formerly was operated by the Rosicrucian Fellowship. Alterations and installations are under way to permit re-opening the 35-bed sanitarium with its outstanding and complete facilities, of which the treatment departments are now in use.

1956 (June): ICA International Review of Chiropractic [10(12)] includes:
